Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objectives and Strategies

The Primerica Global Equity Fund (the “Fund”) seeks superior long-term capital growth by investing directly or indirectly through other mutual funds in Canadian, U.S. and other international equity securities. Currently, the Fund aims to maintain 100% of its portfolio in mutual funds that hold equity securities. The underlying mutual funds (“Underlying Funds”) in which the Fund invests are selected from the AGF Group of Funds managed by AGF Investments Inc. (“AGF”).

PFSL Fund Management Ltd. (“PFSL” or the “Manager”) retains the services of a portfolio adviser in determining the Fund’s portfolio allocations. Specifically, PFSL has retained LifeWorks Investment Management Ltd. (“LifeWorks”), which changed its name from Morneau Shepell Asset & Risk Management Ltd. in May 2021. LifeWorks functions as the portfolio adviser, recommending asset mix and investment selection decisions for the Fund. PFSL has also retained AGF to act as an additional portfolio adviser of the Fund, as more fully described herein.

Risk

The risks of investing in the Fund remain as described in the Fund’s Simplified Prospectus. The Fund also continues to be suitable only for investors with a long-term horizon who are seeking superior capital growth and have a medium tolerance for risk.

Results of Operations

The Fund, for the six months ended June 30, 2021, returned 7.9% (net of expenses). The Fund is assessed against a blended benchmark comprised of the following: 20% S&P/TSX Composite Index / 65% MSCI World Index / 10% MSCI Emerging Markets Index / 5% Bloomberg Barclays Canadian Aggregate 1-3 Year Index, which returned 10.3% over the same period. Equities and fixed income performed differently to the slowing but ongoing re-opening of global economies from the COVID-19 pandemic during the first half of 2021: Global equities, on the one hand, are at or near all-time highs as investor focus shifted towards economic renormalization, while Fixed Income – particularly longer-duration assets – have taken a hit year-to-date with bond yields increasing due to rising inflation and future growth expectations. Canadian currency (CAD) returns of the blended benchmark components during the same time period were: S&P/TSX Composite Index 17.3%, MSCI World Index 9.9%, MSCI Emerging Markets Index 4.4%, and % Bloomberg Barclays Canadian Aggregate 1-3 Year Index -0.1%. Benchmark returns are reported gross of expenses.

Underlying components of the Fund at the end of June 2021 consisted of (listed in descending order of weight): 31.26% AGF Global Dividend Fund, 23.65% AGF Emerging Markets Fund, 18.74% AGF Global Equity Class, 10.07% AGFiQ Canadian Dividend Income Fund (formerly AGFiQ Dividend Income Fund), 10.01% AGF Canadian Growth Equity Class, 3.76% AGF Global Select Fund, 1.26% AGF Canadian Small Cap Fund, 1.26% AGFiQ U.S. Sector Class.

Manager selection effect was the largest detractor of year-to-date performance with the two Canadian equity funds (Canadian Growth Equity and the Canadian Dividend Income funds) and the Global Dividend fund underperforming their respective benchmarks. In Canada, the AGF funds’ security selection decisions in the energy, financials, and utilities sectors trailed the TSX, which performed strongly in 2021 led by the TSX Energy and Financial sectors. For the Global fund, underweight to technology and communications were both negative contributors. Offsetting those negatives was the Emerging Markets Fund, which exceeded its benchmark in the same time period.

LifeWork’s asset allocation decisions in the first six months of 2021 detracted -0.4% from the Fund’s performance, with the overweight decision in Emerging Markets detracting the most at -0.79%. Offsetting the negative overweight allocation to Emerging Markets was the positive contributions from allocation decisions to Global and Canadian equities and cash, all of which were accretive to performance.

Recent Developments

The portfolio is managed as a fund of funds utilizing underlying investment building blocks, and allocating to asset classes that the underlying portfolio advisers deem to be attractive based on valuations, risk, and long-term return expectations. In light of the quick-moving and fast-shifting nature of global financial markets, the advisers are adopting a framework of smaller-magnitude and more frequent touchpoints with the Fund in order to nimbly reposition the asset mix as necessary. Updates to the advisers forward-looking capital market assumptions have further compelled changes to the asset mix that the Fund employed at the end of 2020.

Recent policy statements from monetary authorities remains accommodative which augurs well for equity (risk) markets in both Canada and the U.S. Though authorities globally are similarly dovish, risks remain elevated in other developed and emerging markets, with Europe and Japan grappling with the next wave of the COVID-19 variants and geopolitical risks becoming more prevalent with Chinese markets. Policy makers there have shifted their focus away from spurring economic activity towards managing the long-term financial risks in their system by increasing regulations and oversight, which may serve to limit growth. Many Emerging Markets (EM) countries also face higher COVID-19 risks as they fall further behind in either securing vaccine shots or administering them. In the meantime, the ongoing recovery of the global business cycle from the pandemic-induced recession of 2020 continues strongly in North America, which suggests the Fund should be more constructive towards Canadian and U.S. equities at this time.

The pandemic has impacted global macro-economic factors and caused marginal changes in our longer-term capital market assumptions, which in turn has led to small albeit meaningful changes to the Fund in April of 2021. Changes also came about in an effort to neutralize the value tilt and to shift towards a more core asset mix exposure for the Fund that will be able to weather any variety of economic conditions. It was an opportune time to scale back the value tilt from the asset mix, as value stocks (examples: financials, energy, materials) had been doing quite well since the economic re-opening trade began in Q4 of 2020 with the announcement of the efficacy and approval of the mRNA vaccines from Pfizer and Moderna.

Changes were implemented to the Fund to include three new underlying AGF funds: the AGF Canadian Small Cap Fund, AGFiQ U.S. Sector Class, and AGF Global Select Fund.

The inclusion of the AGF Canadian Small Cap Fund is expected to help expose the Fund to the small cap premia, and increase its Canadian equity exposure without significantly overweighting financials that traditionally dominates most Canadian equity exposures. In addition, the AGF Canadian Small Cap Fund is managed by Cypress Capital, which further diversifies the Fund's investment strategy and manager risk.

The inclusion of the AGFiQ U.S. Sector Class was a measured way to increase the Fund's exposure to the richly-valued U.S. economy while providing it with an element of downside protection. The Portfolio Manager of this strategy uses a proprietary multi-factor quantitative model to identify areas of interest, and executes their strategy using sector-specific ETFs which helps to diversify any idiosyncratic stock-specific risks.

The AGF Global Select Fund is a relatively more concentrated portfolio of growth stocks (defined as firms with earnings growth momentum and an emphasis on innovation and leadership.) The inclusion of this strategy to the Fund line-up will help to complement the existing AGF Global Equity exposure, which is run as a portfolio with greater emphasis on "value" firms.

As a result of these changes, the Fund will enter the second half of 2021 with an overweight in its Canadian equity exposure, an overweight in its Emerging Markets exposure, and an offsetting underweight in Global (U.S. and International) equities and Cash. The addition of the Global Select fund as well as the U.S. Sector Class has decreased the Fund's underweight to the U.S., while a slight decrease in the overweight to Emerging Markets was made in light of the aforementioned economic or public health risks facing many of its constituent countries. As previously mentioned, the Canadian exposure is being diversified with an allocation to Canadian Small Cap investments. The portfolio adviser remains broadly constructive towards Emerging Markets, though it has slightly tamped down on the overweight as a result of the changing risk/reward calculus.

LifeWorks in conjunction with PFSL and AGF continues to monitor and make asset allocation decisions on the basis of the evolving global macroeconomic situation. Decisions continue to be reviewed and approved on a quarterly basis, with any asset mix rebalancings occurring as necessary in order to better position the Fund. There continues to be in-depth and ongoing discussions on the exposures and underlying investments, and we anticipate that there will be further changes throughout the rest of the year as we make changes at the margin to better improve the resiliency of the Fund.

Management Fees

In consideration for providing investment management and administration services, the Fund paid PFSL management fees of $3,073,383 for the six-month period ended June 30, 2021 calculated daily at 0.41% of the net asset value of the Fund and paid out monthly. For the six-month period ended June 30, 2021, the Fund received management fee rebates of $2,360,811 and the net management fee borne directly by the Fund was $712,572.

(i)	Investment advisory	1%
(ii)	Administration and other	99%

No portion of the management fees paid to PFSL by the Fund was used to finance commissions earned by PFSL sales representatives or promotional activities of the Fund.

Explanatory notes:

- (1) This information is derived from the Fund's unaudited semi-annual financial statements and audited annual financial statements.
- (2) Net Assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period.
- (3) Distributions were reinvested in additional units of the Fund or paid in cash.
- (4) The per unit financial information is based on prescribed regulations and as a result, is not expected to add down due to the increase (decrease) from operations being based on the weighted average units outstanding during the period and the distributions being based on actual units outstanding at the relevant point in time.
- (5) This information is provided as at June 30 and December 31 of the year shown.
- (6) The management expense ratio is based on the total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) of the Fund and the Underlying Funds for the year, expressed as an annualized percentage of the average daily net asset value of the Fund during the period.
- (7) Where applicable, PFSL waived certain fees or absorbed certain expenses otherwise payable by the Fund. Absorption amounts are determined annually at the discretion of PFSL and can be terminated at any time.
- (8) The Fund did not directly incur any brokerage commissions or other portfolio transaction costs during the period. The trading expense ratio represents the proportion of total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Underlying Funds applicable to the Fund expressed as an annualized percentage of the average daily net asset value of the Fund during the period.
- (9) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate ("PTR") indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A PTR of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities once in the course of the period. The higher a fund's PTR in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.
- (10) All figures presented in the tables are prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Past Performance

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, and would be lower if distributions were not reinvested. Note that the performance does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would have reduced returns or performance. How the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Year-By-Year Returns

The bar chart below shows the Fund’s annual performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2021 and for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund’s performance has changed from year to year. It shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial period would have grown or decreased by the last day of each financial period.

Commissions, trailing commissions, management fees and expenses all may be associated with mutual fund investments. Please read the Simplified Prospectus before investing. The indicated rates of return are the historical annual total returns including changes in unit value and reinvestment of all distributions and does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges or income taxes payable by any securityholder that would have reduced returns. Mutual funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated. The rate of return is used only to illustrate the effects of the growth rate and is not intended to reflect future values of the mutual fund or returns on investment in the mutual fund.

The payment of distributions should not be confused with a fund's performance, rate of return or yield. If distributions paid by the fund are greater than the performance of the fund, your original investment will shrink. Distributions paid as a result of capital gains realized by a fund, and income and dividends earned by a fund are taxable in your hands in the year they are paid. Your adjusted cost base will be reduced by the amount of any returns of capital. If your adjusted cost base falls below zero, you will have to pay capital gains tax on the amount below zero.
