

Interim Management Report of Fund Performance

AGF European Equity Class

March 31, 2023

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

This management discussion of fund performance represents the portfolio management team's view of the significant factors and developments affecting the fund's performance and outlook.

Results of Operations

For the six months ended March 31, 2023, the Mutual Fund Shares of AGF European Equity Class (the "Fund") returned 35.0% (net of expenses) while the MSCI Europe Index returned 29.4%. Unlike the benchmark, the Fund may be subject to valuation adjustments as outlined in the Fund's valuation policies as it relates to non-North American equities held by the Fund. A fair value adjustment can either positively or negatively impact the Fund's rate of return. The performance of the other series of the Fund is substantially similar to that of the Mutual Fund Shares, save for differences in expense structure. Refer to "Past Performance" section for performance information of such series.

The Fund out-performed the MSCI Europe Index due to stock selection. The Financials sector was the largest contributor to relative performance owing to positive stock selection. Positive stock selection in the Industrials sector also contributed. This was partially offset by the Health Care sector, which detracted the most from relative performance as a result of individual security choices. The Consumer Discretionary sector also detracted due to an unfavorable overweight allocation to the sector, which was partially offset by positive security choices.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, make monthly distributions of capital at a rate determined by AGF Investments Inc. ("AGFI") from time to time. The portfolio manager does not believe that the distributions made by the Fund had a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objectives.

The Fund had net subscriptions of approximately $0.3 million for the current period, as compared to net redemptions of approximately $3 million in the prior period. The portfolio manager does not believe that subscription/redemption activity had a meaningful impact on the Fund's performance or the ability to implement its investment strategy.

Total expenses before foreign withholding taxes, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs vary period over period mainly as a result of changes in average Net Asset Values (see Explanatory Note (1) a)) and investor activity, such as number of investor accounts and transactions. The decrease in management and advisory fees accounted for most of the decrease in expenses during the period when compared to the previous period due to a decrease in average Net Asset Values. Shareholder servicing and administrative fees also decreased during the period as a result of decreased average Net Asset Values. The decreases in custodian fees and independent review committee fees were due to variances between the accrued amounts versus the actual expenses incurred in the previous period. All other expenses remained fairly consistent throughout the periods.

Recent Developments

Equities rallied strongly during the reporting period, as major announcements around the globe spurred on markets. However, despite these late gains, 2022 was the worst calendar year for equities since the Global Financial Crisis. China's long-awaited economic rebound helped the global economic outlook somewhat after the country abandoned its much-debated zero-COVID policy. As Russia's invasion of Ukraine passed the one-year mark, NATO member nations pledged their unwavering support to Ukraine to continue the fight against the Kremlin. The monetary tightening cycle by the U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") and the European Central Bank ("ECB") continued through the period, albeit at a slower pace, in an effort to balance growth with persistent inflation.

European equities rallied strongly through the reporting period as the rate of inflation started to recede, outperforming U.S. equities. The performance was supported by stronger than expected economic data, lower gas prices and a greater bias to China where sentiment improved dramatically as policymakers in the country eased its zero-COVID policy earlier than the market had expected. Earlier in the calendar year and particularly in the third calendar quarter of 2022, the market had become concerned about the prospects of a deep recession in the region as a result of highly elevated gas and electricity prices. As these worries unwound and economic performance came in better than expected, the market was forced to unwind this risk-off positioning. Milder weather helped, but also conservative use of gas and energy helped to balance the supply and demand dynamics. Government support also helped. The depreciation of the U.S. dollar was supported by Fed Chairman Powell's announcement of a lower rate hike of 0.25% in February 2023. The strengthening euro, vis-à-vis a weaker U.S. dollar, helped reduce price pressures in Europe, particularly commodity prices which are priced in U.S. dollars.

The ECB raised interest rates numerous times during the reporting period, taking the main refinancing rate to 3.5% in March 2023. The European economy remained resilient, even though gross domestic product growth numbers for the last calendar quarter of 2022 came in lower than expected. Worryingly, preliminary data for February 2023 indicated that inflation ticked up again in both France and Spain, which partly nullified the nine-month high productivity gain recorded in the region during the month.

The portfolio manager expects volatility in equity markets in Europe to continue as 2023 progresses. European equities have strongly out-performed U.S. equities since the third calendar quarter of 2022, and this could continue as European equity valuations remain considerably cheaper than the U.S. In the near term, fears of a recession abound, albeit many now expect it to be a 'look through' recession rather than a deep one. The portfolio manager expects ECB and the Fed to maintain their hawkish stance on inflation as core prices and labour market activity remain resilient. The combined impact of persistent price pressures and slowing economic activity will likely challenge corporate earnings and management guidance throughout the year.

The portfolio manager believes that European banks are well-positioned to handle liquidity risks given their solid liquidity buffers and strong capital ratios. The war in Ukraine will unfortunately persist in the medium term and this will continue to weigh on investor sentiment, as will the persistently high levels of inflation. However, European equities remain attractively valued in the portfolio manager's opinion, particularly compared with U.S. equities, as the economic performance is better than feared and the safeguards built up over the previous crises will support the region through this one. Thus, the portfolio manager remains optimistic on the outlook for the region.

investments. A PTR of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's PTR in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

PTR is calculated based on the lesser of the cumulative cost of purchases or cumulative proceeds of sales divided by the average market value of the portfolio, excluding short-term investments.

Management Fees

The Fund is managed by AGFI. As a result of providing investment advisory and management services, AGFI receives a monthly management and advisory fee, based on the Net Asset Value of the respective series, calculated daily and payable monthly. Management and advisory fees in respect of Series I, Series O, Series Q and Series W Shares, if applicable, are arranged directly between the Manager and investors and are not expenses of the Fund. AGFI uses these management and advisory fees to pay for sales and trailing commissions to registered dealers on the distribution of the Fund's shares, investment advice, as well as for general administrative expenses such as overhead, salaries, rent, legal and accounting fees relating to AGFI's role as manager.

As a percentage of management and advisory fees

Series F Shares	1.00%	-	100.00%

Series V Shares	2.50%	73.25%	26.75%

Past Performance*

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities of the Fund. Note that the performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would have reduced returns or performance. How the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

It is AGFI's policy to report rates of return for series in existence greater than one year. The performance start date for each series represents the date of the first purchase of such series, excluding seed money.

All rates of return are calculated based on the Net Asset Value.
